

THE CUD LIFE BOOKING FORM

The Cud Life Campsite is a small, friendly, family run certified location and to ensure the enjoyment of all our campers and holiday cottage guests it is essential that we have some rules in place. Please read the following, as making a booking with us is in on the understanding that this has been read and accepted. If you can't comply with our simple terms then please do not book to stay at The Cud Life and if you can, we truly look forward to welcoming you.

Be respectful to other campers and your surroundings – For our first year this was our only rule but we now need to be clearer.

Ensure everyone gets a restful night with no noise after 10.30pm - This includes music or anything that could disturb others.

Fires/firepits not permitted – Individual firepits are no longer permitted at all at The Cud Life. If your bbq is under 50cm please use on the central area. We provide wood for a communal firepit every Saturday in the centre of the field, weather permitting.

Children must be supervised at all times - This is a working farm and there are many dangers. Children are not permitted to roam free away from the camping field, around the fire area or toilet block unsupervised.

Dogs must be on leads and you must pick up after them - It is essential that all dog fouling is picked up due to the harm it can cause cattle and that dogs are kept on a lead AT ALL TIMES and everywhere at The Cud Life. We have long leads available to borrow if required.

Rubbish, Recycling and Electricity – All rubbish MUST be bagged and nothing but general waste left - not boxes, airbeds and awnings! Please use the electricity, water and facilities with care and try not to be wasteful. The use of electric is monitored on each pitch.

Enjoy your stay! The whole reason we have the rules above is for our final important point which is for all of our campers and caravanners to enjoy their stay! We love nothing more than a field of happy campers following our simple requests and having a great time on our farm.
